Low Rider! The smallest drum throne in the K&M series really does have depth. With a height adjustment from 14.961 – 17.913", it is the ideal companion for drummers who prefer lower seating. It’s great for children too. There is a simple-to-use clamp with a patented push-button system for fine height adjustment in 0.59" steps. A comfortable clamping lever functions to provide extra stability and snug positioning. The small footprint diameter of 16.929" is ideal when space is restricted and is also a feature contributing to the stability of the throne. The comfortable cushioned seat with a durable, tough imitation leather cover has a diameter of 11.811" and does an excellent job - even when you’re playing over long periods of time. The rotational stiffness can be freely adjusted from easy to taut.
